The contrast of the 2020s with previous years is also visible in the 2020 Carravilla, which is fully 1.5% lower in alcohol than the 2019. Coming from a 0.27-hectare plot at 935 meters in altitude, the wine fermented destemmed and has been in three barrels since October 2020. It has incredible finesse and elegance, is not as ethereal as the 2020 Viñas Viejas but has the freshness and is nicely built, with the pungent chalky sensation in the texture. It has some 5% white grapes, Albillo.
